LONDON, March 14.—King Edward's first evening court was held to-night. Nothing so brilliant has been seen since the early days of the reign of, Queen Victoria. The blaze of electric light, the scent of flowers heaped along the corridors, the glitter of laddes' jewells and dresess, and the court uniforms made a memorable and magnificent scene. Their majestics stood simply and without a dais at one end of the room.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee met to-night and for over two hours discussed plans of reorganization. Thirty-four States were represented.

It was decided that inasmuch as there were a number of States without representatives in the Democratic party in the House, the organization should not be completed until the next meeting of the committee to be held two weeks from to-night, when a chairman and secretary and an assistant secretary will be chosen. In the meantime it was agreed that the present chairman, Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, should continue to act as temporary chairman.

The result of to-night's action in postponing the election of a chairman is regarded as a defeat for Mr. Griggs, of Georgia, who was a prominent candidate for the office.

Manchester Bureau, Richmond Times 1

Antoni Lucca Pacini died suddenly last night at his home, Fourteenth and Hull Streets. The sad news came as a terribl blow to his friends. Mr. Pacini had been suffering with heart disease for some months. He retired about 9 o'clock last night and two hours later aroused his wife, whom he told that he was dying. Dr. W. P. Mathews was hastily summoned, but death came in a few minutes Mr. Pacinia was a manufacturer of and dealer in ice cream. He was a native of Italy, thirty-two years old and had lived in Manchester for several years. He married Miss Martha Brown, and is survived by his wife and four children funeral arrangements have not been made.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS. The Manchester Council held a regular session last night. The feature of the meeting was the resignation of Coun-cilman A. W. Fahr, of the Third Ward. Mr. Fahr, in presenting his resignation "That the Senate of the United States and he would by the 2d of the month mell he composed of at least two Sentors from each State and an additional quently, he thought it best to send his resignation at this meeting.

The couple called on the Rev. Benjaman Dennis, and said that they were Episcopalians. Here they received some rooney. This same day they called on a lady who is a Catholic, and said that being of the same faith, they naturally would rather ask aid of that church or its members. The couple had seen this lady when she came from Sacred Heart Church. The game was also successful at this home, but after the couple had gone to the home of the Rev. Mr. Dennis and said that they were Episcopalians. rid said that they were Episcopalians. She became suspicious, and found that the couple were the same which had called on her.

wards, Edward McGuire and J. L. Gli-dersleeve. After the meeting had been called to order by Dr. Lewis C. Bosher, president of the Academy, who read a copy of the letter sent out to all physicians in the State, Dr. Hugh M. Taylor explained the cbject of the called meeting of the Academy and briefly reviewed the course of events before the Senate Committee.

UNWISE LEGISLATION.

Dr. Taylor clearly stated the case, bring ing out the defeat of the amendment and calling attention to the bill introduced to create the Board of Examiners for Osteopaths. This bill he characterized as a most dangerous piece of legislation, which, if passed, would in time wipe out the State Board of Medical Examiners which has for years protected the State from being overrun by quacks and cranks and would open the gates and cause Virginia to become a dumping-ground for the whole country. It would be a bad pre whole country. It would be a bad pre-cedent, he said, and would lead to the creation of examining boards for every kind of quackery which might wish to enter the State. He spoke of how the State Board had maintained a high standard for the medical profession, and said its continuation depended upon the defeat of the osteopath bill.

DR. UPSHUR ON PATTERSON. Dr. J. N. Upshur was quick to rise as Dr. Taylor took his seat, and it was then that Dr. Patterson, of Washington, who led the fight for the osteopaths before the Senate committee, came in for his share of condemnation as a "quack. doctor said: "I questioned him and he was an artful dodger, evading every ques-tion until I pinned him down and forced him to betray his gross ignorance.'

"The audience smiled." said Dr. Upshur. "at some of his replies, because they were as palpably ignorant as the man himself.' He charged that in several of the cases, where friends of osteopathy testi-fied as to its healing power, truth was suppressed, and the particulars not given to the committee. In one instance he said he had investigated and found such to be true. "Now, Mr. Norman V. Randolph had nuch to say," continued Dr. Upshur, but I defy him to prove that his recovery was due to the skill of an osteo said, becoming more earnest in his re-marks, "at some of the things said before this committee by these people who have been deluded into believing they ave been cured by these people." He said ex-Governor O'Ferrall was a paid attorney, but he ventured to say that if he should have an attack of the ramps he would not send for an os-

Dr. Upshur went into the merits of th ight, saying it was not a fight for the loctors, but for the protection of the public and humanity, and if the os-copaths thought they had won the fight they were mistaken.

DR. M'COY AGREES.

Dr. McCoy agreed with Dr. Upshur in the denunciation of osteopathy as "quackosteopathy as they had done others. He lenied that osteopathy was a science.

Dr. J. S. Wellford said among other things that he was amazed to find out that eight members of the Legislature were so ignorant that seven of them should vote against the amendment to the examining law. He favored the adoption of strong resolutions against such action, and suggested that the Academy might go further and make the thing ridiculous by asking a law taking

Dr. Gordon made a most conservative speech, but forcefully condemned the action of the General Laws Committee.

THE SCENES ARE

(By Associated Press.) ST. PETERSBURG. Saturday, March I.—Correspondence giving the details of the Shamaka ((Trans-Caucasia) earthquake Correspondence giving the details of the Shamaka ((Trans-Caucasia) earthquake has just arrived here.

Nime earthquakes have been recorded at that place since 1905. The city lately contained 2,000 inhabitants.

An eye-witness thus relates his experiences on the first day of the disaster:

"There were two distinct shocks, at 8 and 11 A. M., respectively, but the people, accustomed to rumblings of the earth naid no heed. I stead of fleeing for their lives, the Mohamm dan women and children proceeded to their obligatory daily ablutions. At 12:50 P. M. the earth bulged up suddenly and subsided again. People were thrown headlong in the streets, and when they arose were thrown down again. Asphyriatign vapors were couded from the fissured earth and filled the air.

Three Ambalgace Calls.

The ambulance in charge of Dr. Mus-rell responded to three calls yesterday. The first was Sirth and Cary Street, where John Shippender (colored) has been taken after a ride of a square of the fender of a street car. His knee was the only thing that suffered from the accident.
